2020 Conference Speakers

Leila Jeffreys is a photographer who is globally recognised for her images of birds. She will discuss her practice and how she develops her body of work

Adrian Cook is a commercial photographer who has developed a diverse range of work. More recently with his interest in Tintypes he has converted a caravan into a portable darkroom to allow him to travel and developing wet plate photographs.

Dominik Mersch is the director of Dominik Mersch Gallery, who has been an active advocate in the promotion of photography and videography. He will provide a unique perspective on artists and provide an account of key artists dealing with film and video in his gallery.

Anne Zahalka is a noted Australian photographer who will discuss the evolution of her practice and how she, at points in her career has critically revisited her own practice. She will discuss how identifying place and people are paramount in her work.

Zoe Croggon is a contemporary photographer who plays with an array of visual reference to create her photographic images. Metaphors and movement freely play out in her images. She will outline her artmaking in conversation with Craig Malyon

Take 3 is a micro presentation in which a HSC Photomedia Student, a HSC teacher and a Curator share their experiences specific to photography.
